

Macquarie University update

Working extra hours?

A recent restructure at Macquarie allegedly showed "increased productivity and efficiencies" achieved by staff working additional hours without overtime or time off in lieu.

2 positions were subsequently deleted.

Members are reminded that overtime and time off in lieu provisions are captured in the Professional Staff Enterprise Agreement.

Clause 4.2.6 states "Hours in excess of ordinary hours on any day or over the fortnight will be paid at overtime rates".

Ordinary hours of duty for full time staff are 70 hours per fortnight.

Don't undermine your hard won conditions!

Talk to your colleagues and MQU delegates if you feel pressured to work extra hours and are not being paid overtime or taking flex days.
