Australian Catholic University enterprise bargaining meeting

CPSU NSW members are invited to attend a meeting with your bargaining team to discuss the next proposed Australian Catholic University enterprise agreement.

We have a response from the university about some of the details it is seeking, including an informal pay offer, claims around the span of hours and the streamlining of processes. Members who were available at North Sydney met last week and developed a pay claim in response to the university's initial offer. This will be discussed further at the members' meeting on Thursday, along with how members want to respond to the university's bargaining claims.

The union needs to hear from members about how you want us to respond on your behalf. If you are able to do so please attend a meeting for that purpose on:

- » Thursday 12 October
- » Room 613.2.25, St Edmund Building
- » Strathfield Campus
- » 12.30pm to 1.30pm

We understand that some people may be away this week, and if you can't make it we will be holding further meetings in the near future.

Please make the time to come along and bring a Professional Staff colleague who may be interested.

Membership forms for interested Professional Staff will be available at the meeting.

Regards,
CPSU NSW Bargaining Team
