

University of Wollongong – Member update

CPSU NSW Organiser Chris Bird and Industrial Officer Rachel O’Shea will be outside the library on Tuesday, 22 May from 8:00am. This is a great opportunity to come and ask any questions you might have regarding enterprise bargaining. There will also be information packs regarding some of the changes which management are proposing.

One important development is Management’s proposal to remove your redundancy entitlements from the enterprise agreement. We will have petitions available for members to sign, and to take back to their workplace to ask colleagues to sign as well.

Members need to send a strong message to university management that this will never be acceptable!

So come along, have a chat, bring your colleagues, sign and grab a few copies of our petition and get to know your CPSU NSW officials.

And always remember,

United we bargain, divided we beg.
