

CPSU NSW urges unprecedented measures to protect Correctional Staff during COVID-19 crisis

The CPSU NSW has written to Parklea Governor, Paul Baker, urging MTC-Broadspectrum to act early and implement a range of unprecedented measures to protect the health and financial wellbeing of staff during the COVID-19 health crisis. Click HERE to view a copy of our letter.

The union has encouraged MTC-Broadspectrum to take its lead from the NSW Government and support staff with additional leave arrangements to mitigate the spread of COVID-19.

Governments and businesses in Australia and around the world are conscious that COVID-19 will place enormous pressure on budgets and profitability, and many are responding admirably by introducing support measures to assist employees weather the current crisis.

The CPSU NSW is ready to work with employers to discuss and tailor strategies to ensure best practice initiatives are implemented, and employees are both safe at work and secure at home.

For further advice, contact your local Delegates or Thane Pearce at the CPSU NSW on 1300 772 679.

Not a member? Join today HERE.

UNION IS STRENGTH!

