

CPSU NSW gears up for Northcott bargaining

By now you should have received a Notice of Representational Rights from Northcott in relation to enterprise bargaining. As a member of the CPSU NSW, the union automatically represents you in bargaining.

Enterprise bargaining allows employees, their union and their employer to jointly negotiate pay and other employment arrangements.

For more information on bargaining click HERE to hear from our Branch Assistant Secretary, Troy Wright.

Join us on Zoom and contribute to the conversation

The CPSU NSW strongly believes in member participation in all stages of the negotiating process. We'll be asking you to contribute your ideas and empowering you to make all the big decisions.

As a union, we know the people who do the job are best placed to bargain with their employer. Over the next few weeks we'll be asking you to get involved, educating you on the bargaining process, engaging broadly with staff and listening to you about the things that matter most.

This information will help us develop "a log claims" on behalf of CPSU NSW members.

To get things started, we'll be holding ZOOM meetings on 18 June.
